

Useful Art Websites

Art for Kids Hub – Youtube

<https://www.youtube.com/user/ArtforKidsHub>

Draw with Rob

<https://robbiddulph.com>

Tate Kids

<https://www.tate.org.uk/kids>

Krokotak

<http://krokotak.com>

BBC Bitesize

<https://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/subjects/zn3rkqt>

Steven Lenton Illustrator – Youtube

<https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCbpwB792UfmrY9JeQ2nk5lw>

Cartooning Club – Youtube

<https://www.youtube.com/user/cartooning4kids/videos>

Show Me Art

<http://www.show.me.uk/section/art>

Twinkl

<https://www.twinkl.co.uk/resources/keystage2-ks2/ks2-subjects/ks2-art>

The Arty Teacher

<https://theartyteacher.com/online-art-games-for-the-art-classroom/>

Art Education / Blogs

Artists Network - One of the largest online art communities in the world.

The Art Story - A huge database of art history.

Empty Easel - A very popular blog which is perfect for aspiring artists. You can guest post on this blog to get some exposure for your own art. Empty Easel posts about 3 times a week.

Fine Art Tips by Lori McNee - An interesting fine art blog which posts about art techniques, supplies, featured artists and art business.

Lines And Colors - Regular posts about inspirational modern and historical artists.

Will Kemp Art School - Great acrylic and oil painting tutorials for beginners.

Gurney Journey - A blog by James Gurney, who is the author of Color and Light (Amazon affiliate link). If there is anything I am unsure about in the world of painting, I check out his blog.

Draw Mix Paint - A website by Mark Carder and a great resource for those who want to learn how to paint realism with oils. He also creates many useful tools for artists. I definitely recommend you check out his website and Youtube channel.

Art Youtube Channels

Cassie Stephens – Elementary art teacher she has her own YouTube channel.

Jeff Watts - A masterful artist and the founder of the Watts Atelier. This Youtube channel has excerpts of his Atelier teachings.

James Gurney - Just an all-around interesting Youtube channel for artists.

Draw Mix Paint - Mark Carder's Youtube channel. There is a load of useful information regarding color mixing, brushwork and setting up your studio.

Fine Art Academy - Demonstrations from some extremely talented artists.

Colour In Your Life - Features talented artists from all around the world.

Stefan Baumann - He has not produced any recent videos but his older videos are still very helpful for beginner artists, particular oil painters.

Kevin Hill - He is like a modern day Bob Ross. If you are a complete beginner to oil painting, then his videos are somewhat helpful.

Art Websites For Kids

Easy Drawing Guide - Basic step-by-step drawing tutorials for kids.

Kinder Art - A great free art resource for kids and art teachers.

Art For Kids Hub - Basic step-by-step drawing tutorials for kids.

Art Projects For Kids - Various art projects targeted at kids.

Art History Websites

Wiki Art - A huge database of famous paintings. Great for researching and exploring the artists of history.

Google Art Project - An extremely useful resource which has high-resolution images of famous paintings. You are able to zoom-in on some famous paintings to see even the finest brush strokes.